

MAMMOTH

MAMMOTH CREATIVE CO. FILMMAKER

The environment at Mammoth Creative Co. challenges you to find the best in yourself and others. We find joy in the journey of creating and always put people first because we believe in using our strengths to serve others. We're looking for a Filmmaker who wants to grow personally and professionally while being an integral part of an award-winning creative team.

We specialize in storytelling that connects with people. We strive to find projects that keep our creative team excited to work hard and feel fulfilled, knowing that they do work that matters.

Our filmmakers work well on a team but are self-sufficient enough to take a project from start to finish if needed. They shoot and edit feature-length films, commercials and create branded content for a variety of industries including construction, outdoors, cause marketing and professional services, with expanded opportunities coming in high school, college and professional athletics.

We shoot on RED Cameras. Our ideal team members are voracious learners who stay up with technology, new techniques and trends, and enjoy putting their knowledge to work. They work collaboratively with copywriters, designers, producers and account leaders — and often juggle multiple projects at a time.

The filmmaker on our team is confident, yet coachable. They are comfortable conducting discovery with a new client, can develop a creative concept with a team, and present our work and ideas professionally.
